ePath Learning Wins the Gold in Training Magazine's 2016 Learning Design Challenge

October 4, 2016, New London, CT - ePath Learning, Inc., announced today that they have won a Gold Award in Training Magazine's, Learning Design Challenge (LDC) in the Microlearning category.

Participants were asked to submit a 5-minute clip from their best eLearning programs in up to two of five categories—Gamification, Learning Analytics, Microlearning, Mobile Learning, and Social/Collaborative Learning—and detail how they met the specified criteria in the relevant category.

ePath Learning's Pro Services team, led by Carol Wojtkun, Vice President, submitted a video showcasing highlights of an online learning program they developed for Genesis Advisers, an independent leadership development consultancy group and exclusive provider of The First 90 Days[®]; a program that focuses on leadership transitions in the workplace.

“We are thrilled to have been a part of this competition” stated Dudley Molina, President and CEO, ePath Learning, Inc. “We had an opportunity to compete against some of the best companies in the country and the Gold award affirms ePath Learning is one of them. I applaud our Pro Services team for their award winning work and for their uncanny ability to exceed our customer's expectations time and time again. ”

“I am so proud of the work we have done with ePath Learning to bring The First 90 Days material to life in an online environment. The presentation of the course is thoughtfully designed, engaging for the participant, and multi-faceted, with exercises, case studies, videos, and worksheets,” said Dr. Michael Watkins, Chairman of Genesis Advisers and the author of The First 90 Days. “Participants who have taken the course rate it highly and consider the output – a personalized transition plan- an indispensable tool in accelerating their transitions into new roles successfully.”

“Innovative, electric, engaging, results-oriented, and stimulating” are just a few of the words Online Learning Conference Chief Technology Officer and LDC Organizer Bryan Chapman used to describe the winning entries. “What's different about this program is the focus on building an actual repository of best practices that can be shared across the entire industry,” Chapman noted.
