ePath Learning Announces Partnership with Learnaboutgmp

November 28, 2017, New London, CT - ePath Learning, Inc., a leading provider of cloud-based learning management technology services, announced today their partnership with Learnaboutgmp, a provider of online compliance and regulatory courses. The partnership enables ePath Learning to offer a comprehensive portfolio of high quality training content that complements their expanding line of learning technology solutions for the life sciences industry.

“We’re delighted to form this partnership with ePath Learning which allows us to deliver our library of compliance and regulatory courses on a best-in-class Part 11 compliant cloud based LMS,” said Graham O’Keeffe, CEO, Learnaboutgmp. “This is an ideal complement to our business as both companies are passionate about life science compliance and education.”

“We’re really excited to be partnering with such an innovative and dynamic group of compliance experts. The Learnaboutgmp team has the unique ability to transform technical topics into engaging and compelling learning experiences,” stated Donna Lord, Vice President, Marketing and Product Management. “Learnaboutgmp’s courses are reviewed every six months so that they stay current with industry trends and regulations. They are the perfect complement to our growing line of validated learning management technology services.”
