ePath Learning, Inc. Partners with the Executive Women's Forum

November 18, 2014, New London, CT - ePath Learning, Inc., a leader in cloud-based corporate learning services, is proud to announce their partnership with the Executive Women's Forum, an organization dedicated to the professional advancement of women in the fields of Information Security, Risk Management, Privacy, Governance, Information Technology, Compliance and IT Audit. ePath Learning's ASAP learning management system was selected to be the official learning technology used by the Executive Women's Forum to manage their "EWF Leadership Journey" program. The EWF Leadership Journey is a year-long comprehensive virtual leadership development program that helps women professionals to optimize their individual strengths, leadership presence and organizational impact, while achieving new levels of confidence and success.

"We're honored that ePath Learning was selected as the technology partner to support the growth, expansion and overall scalability of the EWF Leadership Journey program," stated Chuck Hellings, EVP of Strategic Business Development at ePath Learning. "This partnership comes at a time when leadership development has become a top priority within many organizations, and we're pleased to not only support the technical foundation of this first class program, but also to be able to include it as part of our content offerings as well."

"Our organization is committed to partnering with companies to develop and retain women leaders. Corporations throughout the US are utilizing the Leadership Journey to develop a strong bench of women leaders while creating a powerful internal network of alumni." stated Joyce Brocaglia, CEO and Founder of the Executive Women's Forum. "While we are certainly impressed with the technology that ePath Learning provides, we are overwhelmed with their passion for customer support. This partnership leverages best of breed content, innovative technology and excellent support to provide a superior learning experience for our participants. We look forward to scaling our program and having a lasting impact on those that we touch."
